MONEY, STOCKS AND BONDS.

The General List Strong on Active Business-Sugar and Jersey Central Slump. NEW YORK, Nov. 7. - Money on call was easier, ranging from 5 to 6 per cent., the last loan being made at 6, closing offered at 4.

Prime mercantile paper 512@8 per cent. Sterling exchange quiet and weak at $4.8012 for sixty-day bills, and $4.8434 for

The total sales of stocks to-day were $42,560 shares, including the following: Atchison, 29,950; Delaware, Lackawanna & Western, 7,436; Denver, Texas & Fort Worth, 9,301; Lake Shore, 4,457; Louisville & Nashville, 21,960; Missonri Pacific, 20,825; Northwestern, 5,780; Northern Pacific preferred, 9,135; Oregon Transcontinental, 3,-900; Reading, 91,550; Richmond & West Point, 31,621; St. Paul, 9,900.

The stock market again showed an active business in the general list to-day with the trusts comparatively quiet, though the important movements were in the latter. The news of the day was not of special importance except the announcement of the decision in the case of the North River sugar refinery, which was adverse to the trust. There was a moderate amount of buying for outside centers, but the majority of the purchases reflected the improved feeling in the street over the easing up of money rates. The whole list, with the exception of the coalers, showed a strong tone, and, though affected adversely by the weakness in the coal stocks, at no time displayed weakness. The trusts, to a large extent, have ceased to have an infinence upon the shares in the regular list, and the decline in Sugar to-day met with little or no response outside of the other trust shares. Reading was again subjected to severe pressure, especially in the first hoar, but in that stock, as in most of the other leading shares, covering of "shorts" became a factor toward the close of business, and it actually shows a fractional gain for the day. Jersey Central, however, dropped away sharply on a light business, and failed to recover any of the loss, while the movements in the others were insignificant. The support in Reading at the lowest prices was most pronounced, and led to the free covering of the afternoon. Among the active stocks Louisville & Nashville and Missouri Pacific were the most prominent for activity and strength, prominent for activity and strength, though they both yielded readily at times, and failed to score marked advances for that reason. Among the specialties Tennessee Coal was the feature, and it again touched 62, retaining most of the improvement at the close. Michigan Central was strong and active, while the other Vanderbilts were dull and stagnant. Considerable animation was shown again in Ontario & Western, but it failed to make any movement of importance. The market opened with great activity, and first prices were from 1s to 12 per cent. higher than last evening's figures, and closed fairly active and strong at close to the best prices. Sugar is down 25s, and Jersey Central 2 per cent., but the other changes are nearly all in the direction of higher prices, and Tennessee Coal rose 112 and ers are for fractions. A moderate degree of activity again marked the dealings in railroad bonds to-day, and the sales of all issues reached the sum of $2,120,000. The features of the trading were Kansas & Texas sevens, with $199,000; the Fort Worth & Denver firsts, with $148,000; the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe firsts, with $140,000, and the Denver & Rio Grande fours, with $111,000. The entire market was strong, also, and many material advances were scored, though there was no marked feature in this respect, as during prices, and Tennessee Coal rose 112 and Michigan Central 1 per cent., while the oth-

TRADING AT CHICAGO.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7 .- Bar silver, 9514c.

December Wheat Half a Cent Lower-May Option Makes a Larger Decline-Corn Steady. CHICAGO, Nov. 7 .- The wheat trading was only of a moderate character and there were no new features presented. The influences were all of about the same tenor, with the exception that the receipts in the Northwest did not show up quite as large. At the opening the market was a shade better, declined 34@78c, and closed 120 lower for December and 34@ 78c lower for May than closing figures yesterday. The large floor traders were on both sides buying and selling, and New York and the Northwest sent in some selling orders. The offerings for May at times were quite heavy and the premium was further reduced 4c. The premium for May wheat, which was 4@41sc over December a few days ago, has been reduced to 314c. It is possible that there may be a still further shrinkage in the difference between these two futures, though operators incline to the belief that the premium will widen. There was considerable covering by "shorts." Around 84c for May some stop orders were struck which helped to depress that future. The late market indicated more disposition to sell December. Reports on the number of boat-loads taken at New York for export varied from five to fourteen. A rumor was circulated at the close of 'Change that a round lot of wheat had been bought at Minneapolis by Chicago parties which is to come here. In corn a fair trade was reported early, after which the market became quite dull. The feeling, on the whole, was firm, and trading, early, was at higher prices, but the advance was not sustained. The market opened at the closing prices of yesterday and was firm, off-erings of November being light and under a good demand from shippers prices were bid up 38@12c, but later offerings were more liberal, and a decline of 38@12c was recorded, and final quotations were nearly the same as yesterday. Oats were steadier, with a moderate volume of trading. The firmness was due to receipts being less than expected. Prices ranged a shade higher, and the market closed steady. In meas pork a comparatively light trade was reported. November was offered to some extent credited to the long interest, with a fair demand for January and May. Some steady. Prices exhibited very little change. In short-rib sides trading was very light. Prices were without material change. The

on Most Lines of Goods. INDIANAPOLIS, Nov. 7.

In nearly all departments trade is much more active than last week, the cooler weather being the most important stimulant doubtless. The market generally was firmer than on Wednesday. Choice butter is in good demand at our quotations. Eggs are still advancing in tendency. Cheese sells slow, and dullness is one of that market's characteristics. Receipts of poultry were liberal, and prices generally firmer. For spring chickens especially is there a changing from the former to the latter two months at the current differences. Also some buying of November on investment account. Prices ruled 5@10c lower for November, while the other deliveries showed very little change. In lard very little business was transacted, and the feeling was located and little slow. Sa.57½ January. $3.57½ January. January. $3.57½ January. $3.57½ January. Janu

While sugars have been more plenty at times than now, the supply is so much larger than sixty days ago that the talk of a scarcity in this staple has subsided. The iron, the hardware and tinners' supplies markets show no signs of weakening, as was predicted that they would after the 1st of November. Each line reports trade remarkably good Each line reports trade remarkably good for the season. Leather dealers are having an excellent trade. Hide men report basiness enough in progress, and say that they could make some money, if prices would only improve a little. The seed market is rather flat. Druggists say that they are

During our absence from Indiana for nearly thirty-five years, it has been frequently a wonder what the farmers of Indiana were doing, or could do, to add to their material wealth, as well as the per-ling thereby the average product of the farms, with far less physical labor, and rendering almost certain annual crops: draining the sloughs, swamps, ponds and even the mud puddles, where water has heretofore stood and polluted the atmosphere, causing agues, malarial fevers, etc., are now in most places the richest farm lands, enriching the owner, instead of poisoning the blood of himself and family, rendering life miserable and wasting his substance by sickness and doctors' bills. Farms which we knew forty years ago, raising only "little yellow corn," as the boy described his father's corn, which had been choked by grass and drowned by water standing in the furrows, are now raising fine crops of corn, wheat and grass. Land which was worth scarcely $25 per acre has, by drainage, been made worth $75 per acre. Most of this drainage has been done in the past eight years. Even the dumbest and least progressive farmer realizes the fact that all farm lands should be tile-drained. It makes it mellower, warmer and more capable of standing floods and drought. They are appreciating the fact that by filtrating rain and snow-water through the soil to the drain, instead of running off on the surface of the soil, catches and retains for plant food, by some process not yet explained by scientists, the fertilizing gases of the atmosphere. Much has been done in Indiana in this good work, but agriculturists are only beginning to realize the full benefits of thorough and complete tile-drainage for all kinds and classes of land, except sandy. The great improvements in the rural dis-tricts of Indiana do not consist wholly in tile-drainage. Good country roads are yet as important as they were before the advent of railroads. No part of the world can probably beat Ohio and Indiana for deep, muddy, impassable roads in rainy seasons, or in winter and spring. Without good artificial roads it was next to impossible to bank any produce to market or to railroad. haul any produce to market or to railroad stations during the leisure season on the farm. It is expensive and greatly damaging to horses, and frequently demoralizes a man's morals and adds too much emphasis to his language. But it is a pleasure to see how much is being done in building good graveled roads, making it a pleasure to travel on the roads with loaded teams, or with the fine family carriages, which have been immensely increased in number and character since we scraped Indiana mud from our boots thirty-five years ago. Indiana has been greatly improved by the drainage and gravel roads. It would not certainly be a rash statement to say that by these two improvements alone the real estate of Indiana has been more than doubled in real value. And yet the work has just begun. From inquiry and investigation we are convinced that farm mortgages are not as numerous as in Iowa, but on an average they are double the size. In Indiana there is not so much rush of business and speculation. The people appear to be more quiet and content with present acquirements. There is not so much exchange in lands nor is there such a fever to own all the lands that adjoin them. It is true Iowa is largely filled up with Hoosiers, and it would e presumed there would be a great similarity in character and habits. But it should be observed that the quiet and contented part of the population stayed in Indiana, while those of more push and enterprise went West with the tide. They are more for trade, change, incurring risks with hope and expectation of speedy accumulation of wealth. They are ready to sell or mortgage snything they have for better and more hopeful investment. BUSINESS DIRECTORY. THEODORE STEIN.
